

WRITE RIGHT to READ

Bank
Financial Group

This national bilingual writing contest aims to improve literacy skills and to create global citizens. Submit your 300 word story and entry form by March 31st, 2012 to:

World Literacy Canada
401 Richmond Street West, Studio 236
Toronto, ON M5V 3A8

Prizes

Winners will be awarded the following prizes.

- Top fifty:
- Signed copy of Deborah Ellis' No Ordinary Day
 - World Literacy Canada prize package
 - World Literacy Canada's Gandhi's Glasses storybook
 - Acknowledgement on www.worldlit.ca
- Top ten:
- All of the above, plus...
 - Story will be published in Write/Right to Read magazine and on www.worldlit.ca
- First place:
- All of the above, plus...
 - Collection of signed Deborah Ellis books
 - $1000 contribution to a Registered Education Savings Plan

Contest Guidelines

- All entries must be 300 words or less.
- Contestants must be in grade 4 – 6 at the time of entry.
- All writing must be the work of the child entering the contest.
- Children who usually dictate their work to a scribe may do so.
- All entries become the property of World Literacy Canada and may be used for promotional purposes.
- All entries must include a completed entry form with a parent/guardian's signature.
- World Literacy Canada may elect to award special merit prizes to stories exhibiting unusual talent.
- For full contest details, please visit www.worldlit.ca
- Submission Deadline: March 31st, 2012

Entry Form

Contestant's name _____ School/Library/Group _____

Teacher's Name _____ Teacher's Email _____

Age _____ Grade _____ Gender _____ Phone _____

Address _____

City _____ Province _____ Postal Code _____

Parent/Guardian name _____

- I hereby certify that the submitted entry is an original story and has not been previously published.
- If selected as a winner or runner-up (top 50), I hereby give permission for the story and/or child's name to be published by World Literacy Canada.

Parent/Guardian signature _____ Date _____